Reel for Recovery Event at Joshua Creek Ranch

San Antonio, TX - Reel Recovery, a national non-profit organization serving men with cancer, will be conducting a Texas Fly Fishing Retreat for Men with Cancer at Joshua Creek Ranch in Boerne, Texas. The Retreat will be held November 6-8, 2011 and will serve men from the area who are in treatment for, or recovery from all forms of cancer.

Reel Recovery Retreats provide support and education to men of all ages, in all stages of any form of cancer. Since its founding in 2003, the organization has conducted 110 Retreats in 15 states, serving over 1,200 men battling the disease. Retreats are completely free to the participants, with all meals, lodging, fly fishing equipment and expert instruction provided by Reel Recovery. The Retreats provide a unique opportunity for men with cancer to get a respite from their battle and gain a fresh perspective; to learn a new skill and form a healing connection with nature; and to build a network of friends that will provide support and hope for the future.

"Reel Recovery Retreats address the emotional needs of men living with cancer by allowing them to share their stories in a safe environment, learn a new skill and make lasting friendships," said Stan Golub, Executive Director. "We have conducted 110 Retreats across the country over the past eight years, and we are delighted to continue our Texas Retreat Program in the beautiful hill country setting at Joshua Creek Ranch."

About Reel Recovery

Reel Recovery is a national non-profit organization that conducts fly-fishing retreats for men recovering from all forms of cancer. Our mission is to help men in the cancer recovery process by introducing them to the healing powers of the sport of fly-fishing, while providing a safe, supportive environment to explore their personal experiences with cancer, with others who share their stories. Though only a few days in duration, a Reel Recovery retreat can be a life-changing event for men battling cancer. The program blends outdoor activity with directed conversations to create a unique environment conducive to relaxed, open interactions. Retreats are offered at no cost to the participants and are led by professional psychosocial facilitators and expert fly-fishing instructors. A maximum of 12-14 men are invited to participate, to ensure the quality of the instruction and to create a powerful small-group dynamic. About Joshua Creek Ranch

Joshua Creek Ranch, located in the beautiful Texas Hill Country, is nestled on an isolated stretch of the pristine Guadalupe River - just 40 minutes Northwest of San Antonio International Airport. The ranch's diverse terrain including Texas prairie grasses, high bluffs that present a dramatic backdrop to crystal clear Joshua Creek, and magnificent, ancient oaks are perfect habitat for the best quail hunting in Texas, with the added bonus of pheasant and partridge. In addition to upland bird walk-up hunting behind exceptional pointing and flushing dogs handled by experienced, professional guides, Joshua Creek Ranch offers Continental shoots and European-style driven pheasant shoots. Sports enthusiasts also enjoy fly-fishing for trout and gunning on three different automatic, state-of-the-art clay-shooting scenarios. Gourmet dining and lodging with spectacular views top off the ultimate outdoor experience. Joshua Creek Ranch is celebrating 21 years as a superior hunting and wingshooting lodge and is the only recipient of the Beretta Two Trident Designation for excellence in upland bird hunting in the state of Texas.
